

Research, HIV: tomato concentrate could help reduce associated chronic intestinal inflammation

New UCLA-led research in mice suggests that adding a certain type of tomato concentrate to the diet can reduce the intestinal inflammation that is associated with HIV. Left untreated, intestinal inflammation can accelerate arterial disease, which in turn can lead to heart attack and stroke.

LER MAIS

Remover Editar inscrição

Quinta das Pratas Avenida 25 de Abril
2070-158 Cartaxo
Lisboa

